FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

INFINITY® MOBILE SYSTEMS ANNOUNCES EXCLUSIVE MARINE AUDIO SPONSORSHIP OF 2005 PRO WAKEBOARD TOUR

Infinity Wakeboard Tower Audio System a Star of the Show in Infinity Booth at Pro Tour Stops Beginning April 28

WOODBURY, N.Y. (April X, 2005) – Infinity Mobile Systems has inked a deal with the Pro Wakeboard Tour to become its official marine audio sponsor. As part of the agreement, the brand’s celebrated Wakeboard Tower Audio System for boats, introduced in 2004, will be a highlight of the Infinity booth at tour stops throughout North America. The event season kicks off April 28 at the Orlando Watersports Complex in Florida.

“The Infinity Wakeboard Tower Audio System has been extremely well received since its introduction last year, confirming our belief that it’s a viable product in the marine audio category,” said Christopher M. Dragon, director of brand marketing for Infinity Mobile Systems. “We look forward to introducing this innovative tower audio system to a larger audience as we back this season’s Pro Wakeboard Tour. Our sponsorship of the tour meets our goals of supporting the growing wakeboard industry and providing an audio system that delivers Infinity’s great sound on the water.”

In a related move, Infinity recently announced a sponsorship of Dallas Friday, the top-ranked female in professional wakeboarding, and the youngest on the women’s Pro Wakeboard Tour. Infinity provided a Wakeboard Tower Audio System for her boat, and has scheduled her for appearances at Infinity events nationwide as she touts the merits of the system.

The Infinity Wakeboard Tower Audio System is the first sound system to bring high-quality audio to water-sports enthusiasts where they feel most at home: on the water. The system includes two high-performance speakers that attach to a boat’s wakeboard tower with swiveling, one-size-fits-all cast-aluminum brackets. The amplifier includes a built-in talkback microphone that incorporates system controls, including music and page levels. At the press of a button, the user can easily communicate with the wakeboarder from the boat. Precision-engineered to deliver high-output sound (90dB) to a distance of 50 feet, the system is also perfect for waterskiing, tubing and even lakeside entertainment.

Today, wakeboarding is the fastest growing water sport in America. The World Wakeboard Association (WWA), founded in 1989, is the worldwide governing body of the sport. The sport began flourishing in 1992, when professional wakeboard events started to be held. This gave wakeboarders a chance to compete professionally, and led to exposure on ESPN and ESPN2. The sport got its own national publication when Wake Boarding magazine was launched in 1993. The Pro Wakeboard Tour continues to grow each year as a result of these advancements in the industry.
